A walk through the city of contrasts

A walking tour of Dubai's old quarter is the best way to get acquainted with the city's heritage. We begin our trip in Shindagha, with a visit to Sheikh Saeed House – the residence of Sheikh Saeed Al Maktoum, which dates back to 1896 and houses a rare collection of memorabilia and documents recording Dubai's history. We then stop at the House of Camels and the Traditional House before heading towards Dubai's Creek. A short walk from the Creek brings us to the textile market, the Hindu temple and the Old Souk area. Established at the end of the 19th century by Arab textile and pearl trading immigrants from Bastak in Iran, the winding streets in this area are lined with restored merchant houses, cafés, boutique hotels and art galleries, the oldest of which is the Majlis Gallery, dating back to the 1970s. We will walk through the Bastakiya area and stop at a local house for a quick break giving us an opportunity to sample Arabian hospitality and a taste of traditional gahwah (coffee).

We then make our way to the Creek and board a traditional abra (water taxi). After crossing the Creek, we continue our walk through the fragrant alleys of the spice souk on the Deira side of its waters. We move on to Dubai's famous gold souk which flaunts dazzling displays of jewellery. The large and bustling fish market near the gold souk is our final stop before we return to the hotel.

Experience the future of Dubai

Our journey begins at a location near the Burj Al Arab, for a great photo opportunity of the world's first seven-star hotel. We then drive along the Dubai Marina and stop for more photo opportunities.

Proceeding to the Dubai Information Centre, you will get a preview of Dubai's dynamic and upcoming projects.

Our next stop is Souk Al Bahar, located in The Old Town in the vicinity of the iconic Burj Khalifa. Themed as a traditional Arabian marketplace, it offers a range of shopping and dining choices.

It is an ideal vantage point to capture dramatic shots of Burj Khalifa soaring into the skies above. We stop at The Dubai Mall and visit Café Bateel to taste a modern interpretation of the very traditional date fruit.

Today, Al Ain has become a garden city which also boasts a university.

Proceeding to Al Ain Palace Museum, an old fortress which was the residence of the late ruler Sheikh Zayed bin Sultan Al Nahyan from 1927 until the early 1970s. We can view interesting displays, including a collection of family portraits that offer an insight into the way the royal family lived and entertained. Riddle of the sands

Full day desert safari

This off-road adventure, taking in some of the roughest, most dramatic terrain in the country, leaves Dubai on a journey which leads you through traditional villages, over towering dunes and deep into the steep wadis of the rugged Hajar Mountains.

En route you visit a camel farm and see plantations of alfalfa, the high-protein food given to racing camels to enhance their performance, before arriving at Fossil Rock. This awe-inspiring monolith, towering over the surrounding desert landscape, is embedded with fossils more than 80 million years old, recalling the time when this part of Arabia was covered by sea.

Your safari then takes you into the rocky escarpment of the Hajar Mountains, the jagged mountain range that runs down the east coast of the Arabian Peninsula. A cold luncheon and refreshments are served before our return to Dubai.

Grand canyons

Safari to the Hajar Mountains

We depart from Dubai in the morning and drive towards the east coast of the United Arab Emirates. On the way, we take a diversion from the Sharjah-AI Dhaid highway, to drive through a modern Bedouin village and a couple of camel farms behind the village.

Leaving the farm, we head towards the picturesque Hajar Mountains. Driving along the shores of the Indian Ocean, we pass through the quaint picturesque town of Dibba.

Our off-road adventure through the steep passes of the rugged Hajar range starts from here. For the next two hours, the journey takes us through a wild landscape of dramatic canyons, deep gorges and rocky valleys. Amidst these impressive natural sights lie small mud-walled villages where crops are cultivated. After pausing for a picnic lunch in the 'Grand Canyons', we drive back to Dibba village from where we head to the oasis town of Masafi. Here, we visit the colourful Friday Market before returning to Dubai in the evening.

Tour of Abu Dhabi

Starting from Dubai, we travel past the world's largest man-made port at Jebel Ali and onward for a two-hour drive along a coastal desert road lined with acacia trees, to Abu Dhabi, the capital of the United Arab Emirates.

Here, you will see modern interpretations of Arabian architecture in the many skyscrapers, villas and palaces that line our route along the riviera-style Corniche. A new addition is the majestic Sheikh Zayed Mosque, the third largest in the world, named after Sheikh Zayed bin Sultan Al Nahyan, the first President of the United Arab Emirates. We stop here for a photo opportunity of this Islamic architectural masterpiece.

We then visit the Sheikh Zayed Museum and the Heritage Village where souks, an old fishing village and bedouin tents have been replicated to give you a feel of traditional life in Abu Dhabi.

After lunch, we drive past the iconic Emirates Palace Hotel. On our way back to Dubai, we also pass the upcoming developments on the Saadiyat and Yas Islands and stop at the Yas Hotel, which houses the Yas Marina Formula 1 Race circuit, for a short break and a photo opportunity.

City of merchants

Orientation tour of Dubai city

A fascinating historical excursion – our route takes us from Burj Al Arab, Dubai's landmark hotel to Majlis Al Ghorfat, a magnificent structure constructed in 1955 and recently restored. The Majlis was originally the summer residence of the late Sheikh Rashid bin Saeed Al-Maktoum. Driving past modern palaces, we stop at the Jumeirah Mosque for a photo opportunity. Our route then takes us towards Dubai's Bastakiya area to admire the old wind tower houses which were built by wealthy merchants, passing the magnificent Zabeel Palace on the way.

Further on, we visit the Al Fahidi Fort, a 200-year-old structure that houses the Dubai Museum and records the city's past as an important pearl diving and trading centre. We continue our journey on a traditional abra (water taxi), across the Creek, offering sights of a modern metropolis, with splendid architecture on its banks, dwarfing the bustling alleys of our next destination – the gold and spice souks.

About Dubai

About Dubai

Long established as the trading and commercial hub of the Middle East, Dubai, the second largest of the seven Emirates, combines the excitement of a bustling commercial centre with the wide open spaces of a luxurious resort. Located at the crossroads of Asia, Europe and Africa, and offering facilities of the highest international standards combined with the charm and adventure of Arabia, Dubai is sure to be another premier destination for the IBA Annual Conference 2011.

The Dubai Convention and Exhibition Centre (DICEC)

The Dubai Convention and Exhibition Centre (DICEC), is enviably positioned between new and old Dubai. To one side the city's glittering new skyline of hotels, freehold properties, business districts, shopping malls and entertainment resorts. To the other side is the older part of Dubai with its souqs, landscaped parks and vibrant retail and residential districts. Dubai's historic creek, wildlife bird sanctuary, zoo, museum, heritage sites, beaches, championship golf courses, and marina are also in the vicinity.

A ten-minute drive from the Dubai International Airport, DICEC is at the heart of Dubai's Business District. Conveniently located along the arterial Sheikh Zayed Road, the complex adjoins the high speed metro's DWTC station.

Climate, weather and clothing

Dubai has a sub-tropical, arid climate. Sunny, blue skies can be expected most of the year. Rainfall is infrequent and irregular, falling mainly in winter. Temperatures range from a low of about 10.5°C/50°F to a high of 48°C/118°F. During the month of November the temperature averages at around 25°C/77°F.

Lightweight summer clothing is suitable for most of the year, but sweaters or jackets may be needed for the winter months, especially in the evenings. Compared with some parts of the Middle East, Dubai has a very relaxed dress code. However, care should be taken not to give offence by wearing clothing that may be considered revealing. At the pool or on the beaches, trunks, swimsuits and bikinis are quite acceptable.

Culture and entertainment

Dubai's culture is rooted in Islam, providing an inspiration that touches all aspects of everyday life. Virtually every neighbourhood has its own mosque, where the faithful congregate for prayer five times every day. One of the largest and most beautiful – Jumeirah Mosque – is a spectacular example of modern Islamic architecture.

Dubai has a lively nightlife. Hotel bars range from sophisticated cocktail lounges to typically informal British and Irish pubs and Western-style lounges. Most of them serve food and many feature live entertainment.

Dubai's reputation as a shopper's paradise extends to many aspects of the city's bustling commercial life. The emirate is teeming with shopping malls and each mall reveals a different theme and experience. The sprawling expanse of the malls, the innovative architecture, the designer boutiques, top brands, vast product range and an endless choice of restaurants and cafes allow visitors the option of passing an entire day within the premises of a single shopping complex. Existing alongside the modern shopping malls are the traditional markets, also known as the souks. With their historic structures still in place and restored to meet the demands of the present day, Dubai's different souks may vary in their offerings and character, but are all alive with the buzz of trade and the spirit of a strong and traditional past.

Shopping/business hours

The weekend has traditionally been Thursday afternoon and Friday, but some organisations now close on Friday and Saturday, working through Thursday afternoon instead. Government offices are open from 0730 – 1430 (Sunday – Thursday and closed on Friday and Saturday).

Normal Dubai hours are from 0900 – 1300 and 1600 – 2100 or later. Some boutiques in the residential areas do not open until 0930 or 1000. Shopping malls tend to open from 1000 – 2200. Most supermarkets stay open until late at night seven days a week, while some remain open 24 hours. Shops close for prayers on Fridays from 1130 – 1330. Shopping malls and most shops are open on Friday evenings until late.

Food and drink

Standards of international cuisine in Dubai are high and the choice is diverse. Top class restaurants in the city's hotels offer Arabian, French, Italian, Spanish, Greek, Mexican, Russian, British, German, Chinese, Japanese, Thai, Indian, Filipino and Korean cuisine to name just a few.

Hotels offer a remarkably diverse range of food and beverage outlets, partly because they serve not only their own guests but also attract large numbers of local residents. Their restaurants cover everything from coffee shops to fine dining and speciality outlets and the standard of service is on a par with the best in the world. The night-life is equally varied, with many bars, pubs, discos and nightclubs open until the small hours.

Outside the hotels, small eating places are to be found in all parts of the city including Deira, Bur Dubai, Satwa, Jumeirah and Dubai Marina. While restaurants located outside hotel and club premises are not permitted to serve alcohol, all are air-conditioned, clean and are often culinary adventures in their own right.

Getting around

Taxis are the most common way of getting around. Metered cabs from Dubai Transport Corporation, recognised by their cream colour, are efficient and have well-trained and courteous drivers. For fares please visit the Road Transport Authority website www.rta.ae Driving in the UAE is on the right-hand side.

An interesting way to travel between Dubai and Deira is by water taxi across the Creek. In 2007, the RTA launched fully air conditioned water buses to enhance Dubai's water transport.
